

DEALS IN 'VARBS' AND BATHS

History of a Man Arrested for Illegal Practice of Medicine.

KNOWN TO FAME IN THREE STATES.

His Peculiar Methods of Compounding Hinted At by a Druggist With Whom He Has Had Extensive Business Dealings.

"Dr. Lieber, first real name unknown," is the way it appears on the complaint.

The information states directly that the so-called doctor is guilty of illegally practicing or attempting to practice, and incidentally that he has been picked out by the State Board of Health as his meat.

In connection with these charges there is a little interesting information regarding the doctor. Some ten years ago, Dr. Lieber hung out his shingle near the corner of Thirtieth and Capitol avenue, where he dispensed decoctions of "varbs" or "improvements" in baths of unknown mixtures as the fancy suited him.

For a time he flourished, and then the place that had known him knew him no more. He had moved to his "varbs" bottles up his bath juice and sought newer and greener fields. While his memory was still fresh he reappeared in a doctor's office for a short time all sufferers who called on him were treated to a hearty swig from an immense jug that was a conspicuous article in one corner of his little office. The treatment was something on the old time plan, and the pills that he medicated that was good for children would be equally helpful in a case of typhoid fever.

But Dr. Lieber was not here to stay. He disappeared again and turned up in Council Bluffs, where he remained for some time and was next heard of in Mitchell, S. D. A few months ago he again located in Omaha at Twenty-fourth and M streets, where he has been superintending the workings of his baths and dispensing specifics to great and small.

When arrested the doctor found a bossman in Peter Goss, who signed the $300 appearance bond, and the prisoner was released. Yesterday, however, Mr. Goss refused to continue on the bond, and the defendant was surrendered into the custody of the officers.

Another hurdle for him was a productive of good results, and the doctor was locked up. From a well known druggist something of Lieber's modus operandi was learned.

"Lieber won't stay in jail," he declared. "I couldn't get on my bond, because if I did I would have all the other doctors down on me, but it will be fixed up in another way so that he will get bail this afternoon. I have known him for years and I know that he makes money. He buys a good deal of stuff of me and pays cash, and his business is just as good as anybody's. He registered with County Clerk O'Malley the last time he was here, but he didn't this time. He is not educated, but he has more practical knowledge than some of the doctors who have diplomas. He has a good deal of money, and he can make folks believe black is white. What if he is a quack? Folks want to be humbugged, and he can do it as well as anybody else. He don't hurt anybody, as his medicines are harmless. I know what he buys. He gives patent medicines mostly, and two doctors, who prescribed for him but failed to give him relief. A druggist of Butler, Pa., then gave him a double dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and he was all right and is enthusiastic in his praise of the Remedy. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

BENEATH A MOTOR'S WHEELS.

Smith D. Moore Run Over and Almost Instantly Killed.

HORRIBLY MANGLED AND CRUSHED.

Stories of the Accident as Told by Eye Witnesses—The Railway Employees Blameless—A Home Left Desolate—Fell From a Slippery Step.

Another happy home has been made desolate. A wife mourns the death of a loving husband and two little children wait the coming of a father whose soul has flown from its habitation of clay long hours ago.

Smith D. Moore, aged 32 years, who resided at 1316 North Twenty-seventh street, and for five years has been abstract clerk in the general offices of the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad, is dead.

He had completed his labors for the day and at 6:25 o'clock last night had started for home. While in the act of boarding the north-bound motor train No. 6, in charge of Conductor Charles Snyder, and Motorman Andy Johnson, at Sixteenth and Webster streets, he was thrown beneath the wheels of the trailer and instantly killed.

The body was taken into W. J. Hughes' drug store, where medical aid was summoned, but the soul had taken flight and the physician's services were not required. The body was turned over to Coroner Maul, who will hold an inquest at 11 o'clock this morning.

How the Accident Happened. There were a number of eye-witnesses to the accident, and the following are in charge of the case: W. G. Armstrong and H. J. Kadish. They all tell substantially the same story, which is as follows: The train, with its heavy load, passengers filling both cars and standing on the platform. As the train neared Webster street, Moore, who was standing about fifty feet from the front of the street, and on the west side of the tracks, caught hold of the guard rail on the front end of the trailer. He stopped, but a second later stepped and fell. In doing so he released his hold upon the guard rail and was thrown headlong across the track between the cars. The result to stop was immediately given, but before the train had been brought to a standstill both wheels of the car had passed over the man's body.

Told by the Conductor. Conductor Snyder said that he had just collected the fares in the front car and was just coming out onto the platform. He saw Moore slip and fall. Immediately he gave the motorman "three bells" and the motor was reversed. The train was under control, but before it could be stopped the car had passed over Moore's body and had reached the middle of Webster street.

The conductor was one of the first persons to reach the body. He found it about thirty feet south of the fourth line of Webster street. It was horribly mutilated, the wheels apparently having caught Moore about the head. They then passed over his chest and arms, both legs, nearly severing them from the trunk. Although the victim gasped once or twice after being picked up, it is probable that he was dead before he was taken off the rails.

The conductor and motorman made their report, and upon the arrival of the coroner on their way north were relieved by other employees of the line. They at once proceeded to the police station, where they surrendered themselves for the purpose of being released to await the findings of the coroner's jury.

Safe and Reliable. "In buying a cough medicine for children," says H. J. Walker, a prominent druggist of Ogden, Utah, "I never get any other but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. There is no danger from it and relief is always sure to follow. I particularly recommend Chamberlain's because I have found it to be safe and reliable." 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

ARRESTED THEM AGAIN.

Norton Bros' Graders Again in Trouble—Over a Warrant.

William and J. C. Norton, the South Omaha grading contractors, were arrested a few days ago on a charge of crookedness in a grading contract in that suburb and afterwards discharged, were arrested again on a charge preferred by County Attorney Mahoney and thrown into the county jail.

Yesterday morning they were arraigned before Justice E. B. Bradley and given a change of venue to Justice Wilson's court. They are charged on five counts with larceny, larceny as bawlers and obtaining money under false pretenses, the amount involved being $7,740.

Mayor Sloan says in regard to the affair: "It is folly for Norton Bros. to cherish the idea that they can get away with the $7,740.15 in bonds held by them. Nobody will purchase these bonds, as everybody knows that the Nortons have no money. They have had one or two talks with the Nortons and find that the older one is disposed to be fair about the matter and return the bonds. The younger makes no attempt to do so, and the face of the fact that they were secured only through a clerical error on the part of a city official. The property is held in a deed, and they paid their part of the cost of grading the street and they will never pay the extra $1,740.15 in bonds that Norton Bros. have secured by accident."

Robbed a Niece. Mrs. Ella Berlin, who lives at Eighteenth and Pacific streets, Omaha, has caused the arrest of Willie Lake, her brother-in-law, on the charge of grand larceny. Mrs. Berlin says that the crime was committed last April, but that she did not secure proof of it until recently. She says that Lake, who married her last year, stole a gold watch and pair of gold bracelets belonging to her little daughter. "That the girl, while playing in the woodshed, took off the jewelry and left it in the place where she was. Later, however, she believes that Lake sneaked in through an opening and stole the valuables."

No trace of the missing ornaments was obtained until recently when the gold watch was discovered in a washup in Omaha which had been left by Lake's brother-in-law, Mrs. Berlin caused the South Omaha officers to search the fellow's room and her suspicions were sustained by the discovery of the missing gold bracelets in Lake's trunk. A warrant was therefore sworn out for his arrest and it was served on him just as he was leaving Snyder's packing house.

That Fire Ordinance. The proposed ordinance which provides that any person who refuses to obey the orders of any fireman at a fire shall be fined $100 and be imprisoned in the county jail for thirty days therefore is not meeting with any favorable reception.

"Just think," said an O street business man, "the mere refusal of a man to enter a burning house at the peril of his life, just because he is ordered to do so by a fireman who are paid to do that work, is sufficient to cause a heavy fine and term of imprisonment. Such an ordinance would be an imposition on the public."

No citizen yet seen seems to favor the proposed ordinance and there is every indication that it will meet with strong opposition when considered by the council.

Deaths of Mrs. Gideon. Mrs. Maggie B. Gideon, wife of Mr. E. D. Gideon, Twentieth and I streets, died at 3 p. m. yesterday. She leaves a husband and three children, the youngest only a week old.

Mrs. Gideon was 27 years old and was greatly esteemed by all who knew her. She was married to Mr. Gideon four years ago. The funeral exercises will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the Methodist Episcopal church, Twenty-third and N streets. Rev. Dawson will preach the funeral sermon.

THE GRIP

That we got on the clothing business of this corner of the earth in one short season five years ago, was obtained in the first place by selling a class of goods that a man could swear by and not have to swear at, and by selling them at straight legitimate prices. No house in all this land, no matter where sells goods for less money than we do. And no house, no matter who, sells a better or more reliable class of goods. Even if we do occasionally sell something so cheap that you wonder how we got the goods, you can depend on the goods being reliable in every way. Today we shall offer between four and five hundred men's
